Barry Howard
President / CEO

We're half-way through February. Wow! I think that means that spring is just around the corner.

For those of you that missed our last breakfast, I reported that my recent trip to Albany provided some insight into the governor's budget proposal. It's not a surprise that it includes lots of new taxes and "fees" (also known as hidden taxes). He is trying to close a 4.5

billion dollar budget gap with more than 2 billion in new taxes, fees, or tax credit deferral. Some good news has come from Albany in that the governor proposes tax code changes that tie the NYS deductions to the federal deductions, thus lifting the burden on NY taxpayers by $650 million dollars that would have been a New York State windfall.

If you would like more detail, feel free to give me a call at the office or stop in and have coffee.

We have our breakfast coming on Friday the 23rd and while I know it's school break week, I am hoping we will have a good turn out. The presentation will be on Emotional Intelligence – don't be scared, it's not some mysterious academic theory! There are some significant workplace changes that can happen with a little understanding of emotional intelligence. Don't miss this breakfast.

Our last breakfast was a fun opportunity for the attendees to get to know one another a little better and relax with some lightweight networking. One of the things we did was "assign" seats so that people were placed at totally random tables with people they may have never met! It was a great success and we will be doing that portion again sometime in the future.

We are in the process of updating the look and feel of our newsletter and I am hoping that our March edition will be the launch of that new format. It will also include our conversion to Constant Contact for our email communications (something that also provides chamber members with a new member benefit!). Stay tuned for more information.

Lastly, Happy Valentine's Day! I hope to see you all at breakfast on the 23rd!

Business Person Of The Year

The “Business Person of the Year” is someone who is recognized as having set a standard of accomplishment in both business and the community. Nominations are from the Chamber’s business members who have made a significant impact on the role of business in the community. The nominee must be a member of the Chamber for at least 18 months. They must be an active member who is always willing to go above and beyond, and be a leader that motivates others. They must have a level of community participation by contributing resources in the form of time, talent or money to our community via projects, clubs, churches, and not-for-profits.

Each year the Chamber Board of Directors receives a number of nominees for this honor – the selection process included several outstanding candidates and the number of nominees is a testament to the Chamber membership’s commitment to our community.

This year’s honoree is a long time Chamber member and a familiar face here at the Chamber and in our community. He has been a member of the Chamber since 1994 and has been actively involved in all of those 24 years.

He is well known for his casual dress and pointed sense of humor!

I am pleased to introduce the Webster Chamber of Commerce’s 2018 Business Person of the Year: Bill Koopman.

One characteristic of Bill’s that quickly becomes very clear in all of his efforts and actions is his immense devotion to his family. His wife Beth and their sons have known for a long time how loving and dedicated Bill is as a husband and father.

Bill has been doing public accounting since 1981 and started his own practice, William A. Koopman CPA, in 1994. The practice focuses on preparing Corporate, Partnership, Estate, and personal income tax returns. They also do weekly payrolls for businesses, bookkeeping, reconciliations, sales tax returns, and financial statements. The practice has a wide range of clients but doesn’t limit itself to any singular specialization.

Bill became a member of the Webster Chamber of Commerce when he opened the practice. He has been the Chamber’s corporate Treasurer and Chair of the Program Committee since July of 2000. He has also been Treasurer of WCC Business Services since its inception in November 2007. Bill regularly attends Board meetings for both the Chamber and WCC Business Services.

Bill is on the Governance, Personnel and Budget Committees and was a member of our Strategic Planning sessions. You have seen him help out with check-in at the Breakfast meetings and he is an invaluable helper at the annual “thank-you” dinner for the Board of Directors. Through the years, he has represented the Chamber at Good Neighbor Days, Village Days, Home-a-Rama, the Shredding Party, and the Business Expo at the field house.

In the recent past, Bill has also been dedicated to other community efforts. He volunteered for 13 years with the Founder’s Club which put on headline musical and comedy shows at the Eastman Theater for the benefit of the Sisters of Mercy. He has helped set up and bartend for the kickoff receptions, and prepared the food and helped serve the performers and patrons at the reception after the performances. The Sisters of Mercy received tens of thousands of dollars to further their efforts.

Bill’s interest in sport found him volunteering time helping coach and keeping score for the Webster Travel Baseball and Basketball teams for twelve years. He was the volunteer scorekeeper for the Webster Thomas High School and Willink Middle School Basketball teams for approximately 10 years.

Bill’s concern for his nearest community led him to hold the position of captain of his Neighborhood Watch Association since its inception.

His interest in photography has resulted in contributing pictures of sporting events, grand openings, dedications and Chamber events to the Webster Herald, Chamber publications, and the Webster Thomas yearbook.

We have a plaque for Bill today that is inscribed with these words: Business Person of the Year presented by the Webster Chamber of Commerce to William A. Koopman in recognition of your outstanding contributions to the Webster Chamber of Commerce and your commitment to the community – 2018.

Additionally, the Chamber will be making a contribution to one of Bill’s favorite charitable organizations in his honor.

Congratulations to Bill Koopman, the Webster Chamber’s 2018 Business Person of the Year!
